Listening And Learning

- TransAlta is here today to share information and seek your input on our proposed project to convert up to seven of our coal-fired generating units to natural gas at our Sundance and Keephills power plants.
- The input you share today will be included as part of our regulatory submissions to the Alberta Utilities Commission and Alberta Environment and Parks, to be filed in the summer of 2018.
- TransAlta representatives will take notes of their conversations with you and we ask that you please fill out a feedback form before you leave.

TransAlta will continue to provide information about the Coal to Gas Conversions Project through regular newsletters, website updates and meetings with community organizations and groups.
